Title of your research proposal here

Name

Summary

This is where you write the summary of your research proposal. Please ensure it is not more than four paragraphs of 4-6 lines each.

Background

The entire background for literature in your proposed research, why your chosen direction is relevant and essential, and how you plan to use existing work should go here. You can also include citations when you refer to the literature.

This [1] is a sample reference.

Plan

Your research plan, followed by RQs, then an explanation through step by step process of how you plan to conduct your research should come here. It is also good to briefly explain how you'd transition from one stage to another, and the relevance of scientific contribution should go here.

Conclusion

Your conclusion on why you are proposing what you are proposing and possible future direction in case it is a late-stage research proposal.
